When is my registration renewal due?

- You must apply to renew your registration at least 30 days, but not more than 90 days, before it expires.
- You can check your registration expiry date on the TPB Register.
- Plan ahead so your renewal application is submitted prior to the Christmas period.
- Once you submit your renewal application, your registration is taken to continue until the application has been decided.
- If approved, your registration will be renewed for at least 3 years.

Registration renewal requirements

- Fit and proper
- Professional indemnity insurance
- For individuals – continuing professional education
- Qualifications and experience
- For companies/partnership – sufficient number

Fit and proper

- All registered tax practitioners must satisfy a fit and proper person requirement.
- The fit and proper person requirement applies to:
 - individual practitioners
 - each partner and director in respect of partnership and company registrations.
- In deciding if an individual is fit and proper, we must consider if they are of good fame, integrity and character.
- If a registered tax practitioner ceases to meet the fit and proper person requirement, we may decide to terminate their registration.

Professional indemnity insurance

- You must maintain PI insurance that meets our requirements during your period of registration as a tax practitioner.
- You will need to provide details of your PI insurance cover when you renew your registration.
- If you fail to maintain PI insurance that meets our requirements, you will not be meeting an ongoing registration requirement. This could result in termination of registration.

Renewing an individual registration

Before you renew

Before you login into My Profile to renew your registration have the following ready to go:

- If you haven't already verified your identity with us, you must complete a one-off proof of identity process.
- Confirm you have completed the required amount of continuing professional education.
- Have professional indemnity insurance in place.
- If you are a voting member of a recognised professional association, have your membership details handy.
- Let us know if any of your details have changed or an event has affected your eligibility for registration.

Proof of identity documents

We recommend you use the following Australian-issued documents to verify your identity through the online verification process:

- driver licence
- Medicare card
- Australian passport.

Proof of identity documents

Other Australian-issued identity documents you can use include:

- birth certificate
- change of name certificate
- marriage certificate
- citizenship certificate
- certification of registration by descent
- ImmiCard
- Australian visa (if using a foreign passport).

Relevant experience

Relevant experience can include work:

- as a registered tax or BAS agent
- under the supervision and control of a registered tax or BAS agent
- as a legal practitioner
- of another kind.

Continuing professional education

- Over a standard 3-year registration period:
 - tax agents need to complete a minimum of 120 hours of CPE, with a minimum 20 hours each year
 - BAS agents need to complete a minimum of 90 hours of CPE, with a minimum 20 hours each year.
- If your registration is for a period that is not 3 years, you should complete CPE on a pro-rata basis.
- Maintain a record and evidence of the CPE activities you have completed.

Poll 1

- An individual BAS agent registered under a standard 3 year registration is ready to renew.
- They meet one of the 2 options under the qualifications and experience requirements and have completed their relevant experience.
- They have completed 80 hours of CPE, they have PI insurance in place, they meet our fit and proper person requirements and there are no circumstances impacting their registration renewal.

Renewing a partnership or company registration

Renewing for partnerships and companies

To renew your partnership or company registration you will need to provide details of:

- your current PI insurance policy
- the sufficient number of registered individual tax or BAS agents
- directors and partners who are not registered as individual tax or BAS agents
- any events that may affect your eligibility for registration, including any overdue tax obligations.

Sufficient number

- Companies and partnerships need a sufficient number of registered individual tax practitioners to:
 - provide services to a competent standard
 - carry out supervisory arrangements.
- There is no set formula for what a sufficient number is, you will need to use your professional judgement to determine what this is for your business.

Considerations for sufficient number

- Size of the business.
- Types of services being offered.
- Number of qualified and experienced staff.
- Frequency of appropriate training and development activities.
- Level and type of technology or software used.
- Supervisory arrangements in place.
- Any conditions imposed on your registration, based on the qualifications and experience of staff.

Who can form the sufficient number

- A wide range of people could make up your sufficient. It could include partners, directors, employees, contractors or staff under a service trust
- For company or partnership tax agents with a tax (financial) advice services condition, the registered individuals can include Australian financial services (AFS) licensee's representatives such as:
 - authorised representatives
 - responsible managers
 - compliance officers
 - regional/line managers.

How to renew your registration

How to renew your registration
